Current and future research

A2A assessment tool can be used:

- a) as part of educational processes to transition students into a professional programme
- b) Throughout a programme of study
- c) By professionals wishing to raise awareness, as part of development or as part of performance management processes following an incident

A2A decision making tool can be used:

- a) By academics to make decisions about social media incidents
- b) By registered staff and students to understand if they should act on what they see in social media
- c) By social media forum moderators
- d) By managers, professionals or organisations who need to assess incidents or behaviours reported on social media

- Current project 'PRISM: Professional Regulation In Social Media' is validating and evaluating the A2A decision making tool
- A2A assessment tool needs digitalization so that it can be tested, evaluated and validated
- Further research is needed to:
 - Understand public perceptions of professionalism in social media
 - Disseminate and evaluate the impact of A2A and the 3Cs (context, clarity, confirmability)
 - Enable the tool to evolve as social media and professions evolve
 - Explore incidents and decisions associated with these in social media
